

IRISH WHISKEY

Ah, yes... the classic Irish Whiskey. Legend has it that Irish monks invented whiskey, or as we like to call it the “uisce beatha” meaning the “water of life.” Quite fitting for liquid gold, if we do say so!
Sláinte!

All Irish Whiskey must be produced in either the Republic of Ireland or Northern Ireland. This includes every step of whiskey production through bottling. All must be aged at least 3 years. There are several varieties of Irish Whiskey:

Malt Whiskey

Made from a mashbill of 100% malted barley and distilled in a copper pot still. “Single Malt” whiskeys are malt whiskeys that come from a single distillery.

Pot Still Whiskey

Made from a mashbill of malted and unmalted barley and distilled in a copper pot still. “Single Pot Still” indicates a single distillery.

Grain Whiskey

Made from a mashbill of malted barley and other cereal grains, malted or unmalted, and distilled in a column still. “Single Grain” whiskeys come from a single distillery.

Blended Whiskey

Blends of malt, pot still and/or grain whiskeys, sometimes with neutral grain spirits added.
